

The Sinclair Broadcasting's "Stolen Honor" affiliate strong-arming is yet another example of the dangers and power of growing media consolidation.

The content, and timing, of this broadcast on public airwaves makes it imperative that the FCC enforce the legal and, I would argue, moral standard of fair and balanced programming. At the very least, a balanced perspective should be aired. Thank you.